About This Content

Overhauled and updated to TRS19 Standards

The Edinburgh - Dundee line is a mixture of different routes but generally called here as being part of the East Coast Main Line. This well known route includes the Forth and Tay rail bridges and the stunning scenery along the Firth of Forth estuary. The route is based around the year of 1976 and includes the Rosyth Navy Dock just West of the Forth Bridge where Deltic powered ships called Minesweepers were based and overhauled.

The route has some good gradients and also some severe speed restrictions so do keep an eye out for these while route learning.

TRS19 update includes:

- New Track
- New Scenery
- 3 x new sessions
